

21 JESD Termination Notices Given

By DON GRIERSON

Twenty-one Jefferson Elementary School District librarians, consultants, music and art teachers and other specialists have been notified by Supt. Frank Greenwood that their "services for the ensuing year will not be required."

Though Greenwood pointed out last week the letters of notification were being sent out to meet a state legal requirement "in case we do have to reduce the staff because of a lack of funds," the language of the letters is explicit, and the teachers, in the words of Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association President Jan Beekman, are "up in arms."

Among those receiving the registered letters of "notification" were eight librarians, the district director of instructional materials, math-science consultant Raymond Parrett, art consultant Helen Cordell, music consultant Mrs. Muriel Vint, seven music teachers, an art teacher, and one acting principal, Dennis Huajardo.

Huajardo, a physical education instructor, foreign language consultant and summer school principal for several years, is currently serving as principal at Westlake School while regular principal Jess Parks is on sabbatical leave.

Mrs. Beekman and Peter Galiano, attorney for the Bay Section California Teachers Association, said today they feel the letters of notification "probably fail to meet legal requirements" for dismissing the certificated personnel, and each of the 21 notified will request a hearing immediately.

Mrs. Beekman was especially critical of what she termed the superintendent's "random selection of the personnel to be notified of their termination," and said he "ignored such factors as seniority in his choices."

"Without some of these people, such as Robert Muller (the director of instructional materials), this district would literally crumble," she said.

"We could well do without the services of the superintendent before we could do without some of these specialists," Mrs. Beekman added.

The following is the text of the identical letters sent to each of the 21 certificated employees:

"As you are now aware, a comprehensive study is being made of the district's fiscal responsibilities for the 1969-70 school year. Among other considerations, a possible necessity to reduce or discontinue certain personnel is now under study. No recommendation of this administration has been directed to the board as yet. However, in order to satisfy the provisions of Section 1343 and 1344 of the Education Code, you are hereby notified that your services for the ensuing year will not be required."

"No one regrets this preliminary notification more than your superintendent, and this is being done to conform to a legal requirement. You may be assured that priority considerations will be given to you to find a place in our district which merits your certification."

Greenwood stated last week that most of the employees receiving the notification would likely be placed in another capacity next year if it proves necessary to cut the level of personnel in their specialties.

"All of the librarians except two, for instance, are certified to teach," he said.

The superintendent blamed the necessity to consider the "drastic measure" of reducing the staff on the combination of teacher pay demands and a lack of funds.

"The teachers are asking for a 10 per cent pay increase, plus extra benefits, and at this point I don't see where the money will come from," he said.

Several programs in the district were reduced or eliminated after a tax election failed last summer, and the superintendent warned at that time that further reductions might prove necessary.

Bus transportation to and from school has been eliminated, along with some athletic and physical education services.

Mrs. Beekman, who is "fearful of the likely result this will have upon teacher morale," said she and other teacher leaders informed the superintendent several weeks ago they did not want a reduction in staff in order to obtain pay raises.

"He is very much aware of our position," she said. "He is not doing this to meet the demands of the teachers."

First Year Teachers Draw for Seniority

Chance Seen Cuts Won't Be Necessary

By WILL THOMAS

The Jefferson High School District Monday night established a seniority list of first-year probationary teachers—they number 44—just in case it becomes necessary to terminate faculty members in the wake of "serious financial problems."

Following state law, the district's trustees placed the names of the 44 first-year probationary teachers in a plain, cardboard box and board clerk, veteran trustee Elio Fontana began pulling names from it.

"Senior" on the list—her name was the first taken by Fontana from the box—was Marilyn Beckstrom.

From that point on, each name was placed on the seniority list below her's.

The atmosphere was described as "grim."

But, as even administrative assistant Dr. Harold Tonini had to admit: "It was sort of a grim situation. It is a horrible way to do business."

The faces of trustees, administrator-educators, involved and uninvolved teachers reflected the nature of the night's business-at-hand.

It wasn't pleasant.

Tonini explained that the law states the teacher's service does not start when he signs a contract or when the board of trustees officially puts the faculty member's hiring into the minutes—but, instead, on the first day of regular service in the district.

That means, Tonini added, that over 50 first-year teachers reported for work at the same time—in September of 1968.

Though the "lottery" has been completed, Tonini acknowledged that "no one agrees that this is the best way to establish a list, but it is the only way we can do it by law."

He said if the district must let teachers go, it must do so on this seniority basis.

"We cannot pick-and-choose," (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Dance Hall Permit In SSF Asked

A South San Francisco woman is seeking a use permit for a "private recreation-dance hall-retail complex" on Linden Avenue.

Eileen Spingola, of 138 Cherry Avenue, is seeking planning commission approval for an establishment which would include a concert hall, dance hall, recording studio, retail music store, little theatre, art shop, book store, apparel shops, and other related businesses.

The building for the proposed use is a former bowling alley, and would have a crowd capacity of about 1,800 persons.

The establishment would be known as the Bayshore Rock Complex.

City Planner Daniel Pass and other officials have recommended that the planning commission deny the use permit application on a variety of grounds.

"While the proposed complex would accommodate appropriate," (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

SSF Ponders Glass Walls For Plunge

Insurance coverage for the glass walls to be built around South San Francisco's new Orange Park swimming pool might cost "several thousand dollars a year" if present plans for the structure are utilized, Assistant City Manager Laurence Ross reported Monday.

Ross said insurance company representatives have indicated coverage for the "custom type" glass proposed for the enclosed pool will be "very expensive," with rates based upon the square inches of glass.

The plans call for several hundred square feet of glass.

Ross also said insurance rates for standard liability coverage for the pool will be "doubled or tripled" if the pool is built with glass. (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Forklift Used To Open Safe

Burglars used a forklift to break open a safe at a South San Francisco business establishment over the weekend, and escaped with $200 in cash and five office machines.

Police said the Murray B. Marsh Company building on San Mateo Avenue was entered sometime between Friday night and Monday morning.

Entrance was gained through forcing the lock on a rear door.

A small safe in the office was smashed, police said, and three electric typewriters and two adding machines were missing.

Seattle Lab Tests Of Whale Tissue

The 35-foot whale which washed ashore in Pacifica last Wednesday was "requisitioned" by the Department of the Interior, and was hauled to the Richmond Whaling Station Friday for an autopsy.

Dr. Allen Wolman of the department's San Francisco branch office requested that the whale be "exhumed" Wednesday about 10 minutes after city crews finished burying it on the beach behind Esplanade Avenue.

It was buried Wednesday at the bottom of a 100-foot cliff, and authorities said it would be impossible to load the animal onto a truck at the present site.

At Richmond, the Pacifica whale will be examined, along with four others found on Northern California beaches during the past three weeks, to determine if the Santa Barbara oil slick was the cause of death.

The autopsy performed at Richmond subsequently was termed inconclusive and tissue from the whale has been sent to Seattle, Wash., laboratory for further tests.

Dr. Robert Orr, curator of mammals for the California Academy of Sciences, said yesterday autopsies on whales found during the week are thus far "inconclusive," and there is no definite evidence as to whether or not the deaths are related to the oil slick.

A spokesman for Dr. Wolman's office said "only a trace of oil" was found in the mouth of the whale which washed ashore at San Francisco's Ocean Beach, and "this could have resulted from the animal's being towed from the beach to the whaling station."

According to the Interior Department spokesman, no oil was found inside the animal's lungs or stomach.

The Interior Department has ordered autopsies performed on (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

'Open Space' At Foxridge Is Approved

South San Francisco councilmen Monday accepted the South San Francisco Unified School District's proposal to allocate $10,000 for landscaping of four lots to be left as "open space" at Foxridge School.

Robert Maxey, superintendent of recreation and parks, said the $10,000 figure proposed by the school board would be adequate to develop the area in a manner "similar to the Avalon School."

Maxey said the cost of maintaining the landscaped area would range from $2,000 to $3,000 annually.

The school district agreed to reserve four of 11 lots at the site for landscaping purposes after the city agreed to the sale of seven lots for residential development.

Only 33 At Meeting On Bruno Merger

The great San Bruno-Millbrae merger showdown drew only 33 people Monday to a San Bruno Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Lazy V.

Despite public agreement last meeting that they would not attend officially, Millbrae's City Council was represented. City Administrator Richard Watson was on hand, for the city, and City Councilman William Giang appeared as "an observer for the Millbrae Chamber."

Millbrae School District Superintendent Ed Meuthausen attended, also.

San Bruno officialdom was represented by Councilmen Karney Barberian, Maurice Hamilton, and George Corey, City Clerk Carl Hultberg and City Manager Gerard Vergeer.

What they heard was a structure of generalities built by John C. Lorini and Donald R. Hegstrom of Knight & Gladioux, a management consultant firm.

Not only did neither expert know, yet, precisely what benefits or advantages might occur should such a merger be arranged, they said, they did not know how much it would cost to find out.

Lorini said, in answer to a question, that such a study might cost "no less than $25,000 to $30,000 and probably no more than $50,000 to $60,000."

Both were at the meeting at the invitation of San Bruno Chamber of Commerce President Larry Mobley, to give both cities an idea of what to look for before beginning action toward a merger.

The possible merger of two cities is a serious matter, Hegstrom said, and should involve careful consideration of subjects ranging from water supply to police protection, budgeting to street sweeping.

"We suspect consolidation would be beneficial," he said, but the answer could only be found after several steps of analysis.

Jeff High Teachers Draw for Seniority

(Continued From Page 1) he emphasized. "It is sort of an impersonal thing and we recognize it... it was done according to law... I think this is what people were objecting to; the morality of doing it this way..."

Yet, Dr. Tonini now kept a strong sense of optimism—he hopes that the historical number of annual resignations will be seen this year and no teachers will have to be terminated.

In fact, Tonini is emphatic that the seniority list is not a termination list, at this time.

As of today the district stands

13 teachers above the number it can have under a revised each-er-to-pupil ratio.

Four more resignations seem likely, Tonini said.

He pointed out that the district always has had around 25 resignations every year.

"We're in hopes that, with resignations, we may be able to balance. It's still a week or two before Easter, and that's when the big movement begins," Tonini said.

As a matter of fact, Tonini thinks the district will "end up with all our present teachers who want to stay with us," and indeed, may have to "go out on the market and hire a few."

In the meantime, the trustees have established what's considered a "guide" to first year probationary teachers whose names came up on the lower 25 per cent of the seniority list in the drawing Monday.

Tonini also disclosed trustees are still pondering another $945,000 worth of budget cuts proposed by Supt. Edward Morgan.

Even if the board approves these reductions the district will be "in the well about $100,000 still," grimaced Tonini.

Use Permit For Private School Denied

County supervisors upheld a county planning commission decision last week in turning down a use permit for a private school at 260 Thiers Avenue in Colma after a delegation of nearby residents appeared to protest that there were already two schools on the dead-end street and a third would create a traffic hazard.

County Planning Director Reino Luukkainen reported that 181 property owners in the area had submitted a petition asking denial of the use permit, and that the state fire marshal's office, the building inspector and the county health department had all agreed a present building on the site would not be suitable for a school without extensive remodeling.

The appeal from the planning commission was made by the private Shire School, Inc., which is now located in San Francisco. The school had planned an enrollment of 35 children, with four full-time teachers and part time teachers from San Francisco.

ly 1,800 persons, only 150 off-street parking spaces would be provided," Pass said.

"This parking inadequacy would result in the glutting of nearby on-street parking areas, the further overtaxing of the South City Village's on-street parking capacity, and the consequential erosion of traffic fluidity in the urban core."

"The proposed use, and its large volume of nocturnal traffic would not be compatible with residential enjoyment in adjoining South City Village, and the granting of the requested use permit and variance would adversely affect the developmental stability and orderly growth of the urban core and its residential periphery."

Pass said the granting of the variance requested in connection with the use permit application "would be tantamount to the granting of a special privilege."

Garden Club Plants Trees

With the cooperation of Crestmoor Elementary School a principal, Dr. Carlos Montandon, 11 members of the San Bruno Junior Garden Club planted Monterey Cypress at the school site.

To honor Arbor Day, the Junior gardeners, thought of their own school. They knew that a large shrub had been lost and not replaced so offered this donation in their name. This tree will remain in their memories as a memento of the 1969 Arbor Day.

WHALE OF A LOAD—The 35-foot whale which washed ashore at Pacifica was removed from the beach by truck and taken to the Richmond Whaling Station last week, after the Department of the Interior ordered an autopsy. The autopsy performed at Richmond was inconclusive, according to a department spokesman, and tissue from the whale was sent to a Seattle laboratory for further tests to determine whether or not the Santa Barbara oil slick played a part in the death of animal.

all five of the whales found thus far.

One whale washed up several weeks ago near Bolinas, and another was found in the same area last weekend. One was found at Half Moon Bay February 27.

Dr. Orr and other state experts have stated they believe the five whales were a "vanguard" for the expected migration of 6,000 to 8,000 gray whales from Baja California to the Arctic.

However, a spokesman for Dr. Wolman's office said the whale migration is "about half completed," and the five dead whales were part of the main body of the herd.

All agreed, however, that there is no way of knowing how the whales will cope with the giant oil slick, which may be in their northward path.

The whales migrate to lagoons off Baja California during their mating season, then make the return trip to waters off Alaska.

According to the Interior Department spokesman, the northward migration begins in February, and the last of the whales pass the San Francisco Bay area by the first week in April.

"Their time schedule is as dependable as that of the swallows at Capistrano," the spokesman said.

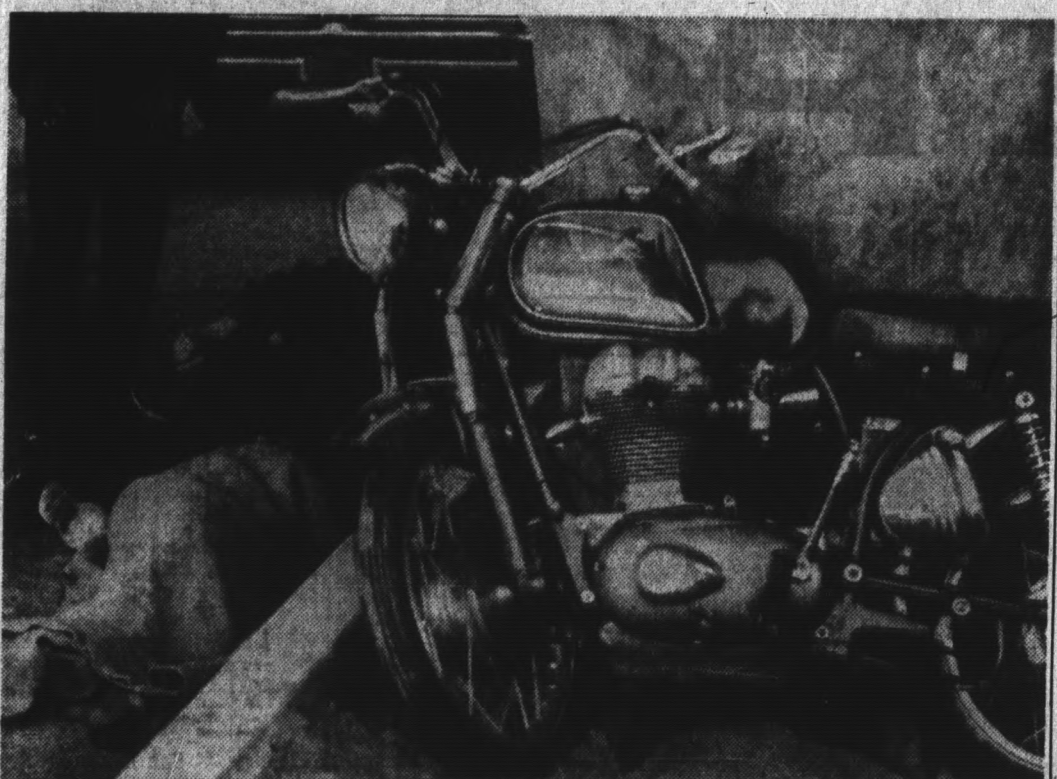

Dr. Orr said he had one report of a pilot sighting three whales in the slick area, and that one of the whales came up in the oil and died quickly, while the other two swerved to avoid the danger area.

International treaties forbid killing of the gray whales, which grow to maximum of 50 feet in length and top weight of 40 tons.

Dr. Orr said there is only one other colony of gray whales in the world. They swim along the Eastern Asiatic coast, reaching almost down to Japan on their southern migration.

Beginning Tuesday, March 25, an adult class in geology titled "The Formation of the Landscape" will be presented at Westmoor High School (room 18) in Daly City. The class will meet on Tuesday nights from 7-10 p.m. for eleven weeks ending June 10.

Purpose of the course is to teach mineral and rock identification; to teach the methods of field recognition and a workable knowledge of the geologic forces modifying the landscape; and to create an awareness of the geologic landscape.

tripled" if the city decides to charge users of the $400,000 facility an admission fee.

Councilman Frank Mammini suggested that plastic be used as a substitute in construction of the transparent walls, in place of the "made to order" glass proposed by the architect.

The school district is in the process of converting from glass to plastic because of the heavy incidence of vandalism," Mammini said, "and it would probably be wise to install plastic at the pool, even though the initial cost would be slightly higher."

Capuchino Band Feast

There will be a Capuchino Band Booster Roundup March 23 and all are invited. Band boosters and Mr. Ralph Bredenberg's band students, friends and relatives will be corralled the best beef in the world at Augie's on Third Avenue in San Mateo from 2 to 9 p.m. at the March 23 outing. Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Aprile, owners of Augie's, with their daughter, Rosemary (one of Cap Band's music makers) are opening their San Mateo restaurant for a band booster fund raising roundup. The Apriles, enthusiastic band boosters for some time, are donating all profits from adult steak and chicken dinners and kids' spaghetti-ravioli plates consumed on the Augie's band day. They'll also carry this on through the following week. This is just another event in the final, big push by Cap Band Boosters and band student drive to pay for the new uniforms which will be displayed at the annual spring concert, April 18 and 19. The Apriles who live at 240 Elm Avenue, San Bruno, extend their personal invitation to everyone to attend.

Teacher's Lawsuit Will Go to Trial

A lawsuit in which a Daly City teacher seeks reinstatement as head of the physical education department at Jefferson High School remains intact today following a ruling by Presiding Superior Judge James T. O'Keefe. Judge O'Keefe overruled a demurrer submitted by Deputy District Attorney Jerome F. Coleman, who had asked that the suit be dismissed because the teacher waited too long to file it. The case is now awaiting the scheduling of a trial date. Richard Boyd, presently a social science teacher at Serramonte High School, filed suit in January demanding reinstatement to the position at Jefferson High. He claimed he was demoted and transferred because of his alleged involvement in helping three students write what school officials called a "racially inflammatory" letter. The suit asserts that his dismissal as department head was illegal because it could only be ordered for unsatisfactory service.

SSF Selects New Manager

After more than six months of reviewing applications and interviewing candidates, South San Francisco Mayor Frank Bertucci and members of the council have selected a new city manager.

Thomas P. McKenzie, 37, present city manager at Turlock, will be formally appointed to the South San Francisco post at Monday's council meeting, Mayor Bertucci said.

Bertucci said Turlock was notified of his pending appointment yesterday, and is expected to assume the post April 7.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco with a bachelor's degree in economics, McKenzie has served as manager at Turlock since 1963. He has also served as an administrative assistant to the Mountain View manager, and as a purchasing agent for that city.

He was a San Francisco police officer for two years.

McKenzie has completed postgraduate work in public administration at San Jose State College and the University of Santa Clara, city officials said.

He is married and has three children.

McKenzie will replace former South San Francisco City Manager Eugene Aiello, who resigned from the post last August.

Since Aiello's resignation, City Clerk Arthur Rodondi, Attorney John Noonan and Laurence Ross, assistant city manager, have performed the manager's duties in the city.

No Immediate Green Valley Plans, Union Is Told

Organized labor joined the fight against a proposed dump in the Coastside's Green Valley yesterday as representatives of Local 1781 of the Machinists' Union and the San Mateo Central Labor Council appeared before the board of supervisors to announce their opposition to a dump at the southern end of Devil's Slide.

A statement by Warren K. Billings, a co-defendant with the late Tom Mooney in the famed World War I Preparedness Day bombing case, that the San Mateo Labor Council had voted against the controversial dump Monday night drew the ire of Robert B. St. Clair, chairman of the supervisors' board who said he had been assured by several union leaders that the labor council would not send a representative to yesterday's meeting.

"Where are these new people going to live?" he asked. Appealing to the board to consider the possibility of transporting the county's garbage to the "deserts of Lassen county" as San Francisco proposed, Bost accused scavenger companies of advocating the Green Valley dump to promote their own interests.

Pointing to plans of United Airlines to expand and of American Airlines to construct an "enormous maintenance base" at the San Francisco International Airport, Bost said his union already has about 1,000 members living on the Coastside.

"We are these new people going to live?" he asked. Appealing to the board to consider the possibility of transporting the county's garbage to the "deserts of Lassen county" as San Francisco proposed, Bost accused scavenger companies of advocating the Green Valley dump to promote their own interests.

Both St. Clair and Supervisor

William M. Werder assured Bost that nothing is planned in the immediate future, and St. Clair said that he thought it was made clear at the supervisors' previous meeting "any conversation would be premature at this time."

Billy Combs, chairman of the political committee of the union, which he said represents 7500 employees at United Airlines and smaller lines, said many airline employees have moved to Fremont in the East Bay or Santa Clara County, where property costs are lower.

"But many of our members have moved to Pacifica and the Coast and they love it," Combs told the board. He said many residents fear the dump will breed rodents and drainage from it will destroy sea life.

Keep It Beautiful
"There must be another place than this beautiful valley," Combs appealed. "Keep the beautiful Coastside something to be proud of."

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, noting that he is a San Bruno resident who suffers from noise and air pollution from the airport, declared, "Yet I still favor the airport and the industry it brings with it. We love this county and we will not create an eyesore."

Fitzgerald pointed out a new board of supervisors in Lassen county had rejected the San Francisco proposal that garbage be taken there, and said he hopes scavenger companies will use the Ox Mountain dump east of Half Moon Bay to avoid using Green Valley.

St. Clair promised "numerous public hearings" before dumping is actually begun at Green Valley.

Nab Teeners At Classes In a School

The last three teenage suspects in the "Relish Bakery Caper" were rounded up by a police posse while they attended classes at Colma Intermediate School Thursday morning.

A fourth suspect was arrested at the scene of an attempted break-in at the Relish Bakery, 6356 Mission Street, by Daly City policeman Paul Westlund after a suspicious passerby told of seeing four kids trying to bust in a back door at the bakery.

Westlund apprehended the 15-year-old alleged "ring leader" who was later dispatched to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Ages of the those arrested yesterday ranged from 13 to 15 years old, police said. All were sent to Hillcrest following their arrests.

A department spokesman said the youths "had never been in trouble with the law before" and they could not connect them with any of the burglaries that have plagued this north county city in recent weeks.

Blithe Spirit Play Set At Westmoor

Westmoor's Little Theatre will be filled with ghostly haunts and spooky happenings May 1, 2, and 3 as the spring drama production, "Blithe Spirit" is performed.

The play deals with a dead first wife who is summoned back through a seance, and a husband faced with bigamy charges. Unusual swaying pictures and flying objects lead Charles, the main character, to believe he is losing his mind, and to top it all, his new wife decides that they could have a peaceful life in the spirit world so she plans to kill him.

The star role of Charles will be portrayed by Steve Grable, last semester's J. B. Jack Benzeza, a novice to Westmoor drama will play Dr. Bradman. Pat Donohue, a member of Westmoor's comedy troupe, will be Madame Arcato. Other actors include Vera Jacobsen as Mrs. Bradman, Marilee Jeppson playing Ruth, Carol Tryon acting as Elvira, and Noella Livingstone portraying Earth.

Stage Manager for "Blithe Spirit" will be Holly O'Hare. Marilyn Alarcon and Vera Jacobsen are head of the props and Ron Wells and Carol Tryon are in charge of publicity.

Suspect In D.C. Fatality Surrenders

The suspect in a fatal hit and run accident, which took the life of an elderly San Francisco man Saturday morning, surrendered himself to Daly City police Saturday night.

Naamon D. Durham, 42, of 548 Plymouth Street, San Francisco, walked into police headquarters shortly after 9:30 p.m., and told police he was "giving himself up."

Durham was the subject of a Bay Area wide search following the early morning accident which killed Edgar Allen Dale, 64, of 3230 San Jose Avenue.

According to witnesses, Dale was walking across San Jose Avenue about 2:42 a.m., in an unmarked crosswalk when a late model sedan ran him down and kept going. The victim died two hours later at Mary's Help Hospital.

The witnesses furnished police with an accurate description of the suspect vehicle along with the license number.

When police arrived at Durham's home they found the "wanted" car, but were informed the suspect had driven off in another car shortly before arrival of police.

The suspect was released on $1,000 bail and ordered to appear in the Daly City courthouse on 31 March at 10 a.m.

Garbage Deal Is Temporary: Fitzgerald

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, in clarifying a statement rejecting a proposal to ship the county's garbage to the deserts of Lassen county made at last Tuesday's supervisors meeting, said last Friday that there could be nothing permanent about such an arrangement.

Fitzgerald, citing a similar case in Brisbane, in which a contract for the dumping of garbage was approved and then rejected after a referendum election was held, said a new board of supervisors could be elected in Lassen county that could revoke any contract made by the present board. There is no new board now.

"The people up there could see trainloads of garbage coming up and get out a petition to force a referendum election to get any agreement revoked," Fitzgerald asserted.

The proposal to ship garbage to the Northern California county was originally proposed as a possible solution to San Francisco's disposal problem. The proposal is still under consideration by Lassen county supervisors, Fitzgerald reported.

Youth Held As Assailant

An 18-year-old Daly City youth was arrested Wednesday as he and an accomplice allegedly beat and tried to rob a man at the corner of Hillcrest and Mission streets.

Leonard McCall, of 148 Santa Barbara Avenue, was arrested by police officer Dennis Sheehy shortly after 8 p.m. as the youth fled the scene of a scuffle with Benedict Passarelli, 38.

Another youth who took part in the incident escaped, police said.

Sergeant Sheehy reported he was on patrol in the area when he observed the pair attack Passarelli and try to grab his wallet. The officer chased the suspects on foot, apprehending McCall.

Sunny Day Recipe

Good morning, good cooks.

Can you believe this wonderful weather? Makes you want to get out in that warm sunshine and forget such mundane matters as washing, ironing and fixing meals doesn't it? Except that the lord and master is coming home from his mundane job and he will expect to see something on the table other than a bunch of crocus. So I guess we can't spend the day reading poetry in the park can we?

This first recipe has a most impressive name and is most impressive in taste and eye appeal too. Mrs. Dolores Healy who lives in San Francisco served this recently and after tasting it, I was quick to ask for the recipe. Dolores tells me this is from a cookbook from Pillsbury.

VEAL WELLINGTON

- 4 slices veal steaks, 3/4-inch thick
- 8 large fresh mushrooms (whole)
- 1 large eggplant, cut into 1/4-inch slices
- 1/4 cup butter
- Salt and pepper
- 1 tablespoon parsley flakes
- 2 teaspoons garlic salt
- 1 large tomato, sliced 1/4-inch thick
- 1 can refrigerated crescent rolls
- 1 egg slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon light cream
- 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
- 12 ripe olives

Melt the one-fourth cup butter in a large skillet, brown the four veal steaks, the sliced eggplant and the eight mushrooms. Season with salt and pepper, add the one tablespoon parsley flakes and the two teaspoons garlic salt. Cover tightly and cook for 30 minutes.

Place the cooked veal on an ungreased cookie sheet. Top each steak with a slice of eggplant and then a slice of tomato, sprinkle lightly with salt. Place the mushrooms on top of towers.

Separate the crescent rolls. Place one roll on each side of the veal tower with the base of the roll on the cookie sheet — overlap narrow end at top — press overlapping edges together.

Combine the slightly beaten egg with the one tablespoon light cream, brush on pastry. Next sprinkle the four veal towers with the one-half cup grated Parmesan cheese.

Place in oven which has been preheated to 375 degrees, and bake until pastry is golden brown and done.

Serve immediately. Garnish by placing the olives on toothpicks and inserting them at the top of the towers.

NOTE: Dolores served these towers with a medium cream sauce. If you plan to do this pour the sauce over the towers before you add the olive toppers.

CREAM SAUCE

- 2 tbsp. butter
- 2 tbsp. flour
- dash of pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk

In a small saucepan, melt the two tablespoons butter, add the flour, dash of pepper and one-half teaspoon salt. Stir until smooth.

Slowly add the one cup milk, stirring as you add to avoid lumps. Cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Makes one cup.

LEMON DAINTY

- 3 tablespoons shortening
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 cup milk
- Juice and grated rind of one lemon

Combine the three tablespoons shortening with the one-eighth teaspoon salt, three-fourths cup sugar and two tablespoons flour. Mix well.

Add the two egg yolks, one cup milk, juice and rind of one lemon and beat well with a rotary egg beater until smooth. Fold in the two beaten egg whites.

Pour into a buttered, one-quart baking dish, set in a pan of hot water and bake in pre-heated 350-degree oven for about 45 minutes.

This serves four generously. When baked the pudding is a delicate sponge on top and a golden sauce underneath. Sound good? It is.

Come Friday you may be interested in trying this next casserole. It combines three different kinds of seafood, tuna, crab and shrimp and adds a cream sauce, that makes a delicious dish.

TERRIFIC TRIO CASSEROLE

- 1 can tuna
- 1 can crab
- 1 can shrimp
- 1 can mushrooms, stems and pieces
- 3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
- 1/2 cup chopped green onions
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 cup grated American cheese
- 1 cup dry bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup melted butter

Drain the shrimp and tuna. Drain and pick over crab meat for any bones.

Prepare the white sauce: Melt the one-fourth cup butter in saucepan, add the one-fourth cup flour gradually blending as you add, stir in the teaspoon salt and dash of pepper. Lastly stir in the two cups milk, and cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened.

In a buttered 2-quart casserole layer half the crab, shrimp and tuna; mushrooms, hard-cooked eggs and green onions. Pour half the white sauce over this and repeat the layers.

Melt the one-fourth cup butter in small saucepan and add the one cup grated cheese and the one cup bread crumbs. Stir the mix well and pour over top of casserole. Bake in 350-degree oven about 30 minutes. Serves six.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS . . .

By Alice Reichert

Teenage Drug Abuse

Another near tragedy at Terra Nova recently, in which four teens were rushed to Mary's Help Hospital to be treated for an overdose of "yellows," drew attention to the fact that teenage drug abuse is a growing problem. The topic has been under discussion for several years now, but until T.N.'s recent incident, immediate action was not taken, and the problem seemed to be considered one that would solve itself if given time. But parents and the administration are shocked and horrified in learning that drug abuse at T.N. is more than just marijuana, and that the "hard core" kids are far from the only ones involved.

Yes, it may be said that Terra Nova is growing up. All white upper middle class schools are not isolated from the problems that are well known in big city schools. Since parents and faculty have been generally staying blind to this fact until now, the problems have grown out of proportion before their time. Five weeks ago, the death of T.N. senior Al Tassi startled the whole of Linda Mar. And now, before recovering from this shock, four students required the emergency treatment for an overdose of drugs, presumably barbiturates. "We never realized..." shocked parents stammer. "We thought it was only those troublemakers we're always hearing about!" "We've known about kids smoking grass, but we never thought there were hard narcotics going around!"

The truth is, Pacifica, and many other cities in the country, began with the use of hard narcotics many months ago. The teen-age drug market is big, and getting bigger by the day. Acid, speed, downers; they've been around and widely used for years now. And many teens have graduated to shooting smack, that is, heroin.

It has been estimated that 75 per cent of the teens in this area have at one time or another, experimented with drugs. Many of these have limited their drug use to smoking grass. But too many have graduated to hard narcotics, and few of them realize what this road to hell can really be like.

This time, T.N.'s incident was a near tragedy. Unless there is some awakening done here, and the students, Terra Nova, both on the part of the parents may not escape without the shock and sorrow of another death.

Gladys is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest T. Silva of Daly City, and Fritz Jacob Bender of Germany is the father of the benedict. Lawrence W. Minnich recently returned from a year of active military service in Vietnam. He served in the field with the Marine Corps as a Navy hospitalman (corpsman).

He was twice wounded in action. Dennis Spinelli and James Myers are holders of the Chevalier Degree, an especially high honor conferred by the Order of DeMolay for outstanding service.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Pacifica Federated Women's Fashion Show

Nick Gust, the mayor of Pacifica who also owns and operates Nick's and The Moonraker at Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, decided to tend bar the other afternoon to see the latest in women's wear when the Federated Women held a fashion show at The Moonraker. More than 200 women overflowed the banquet room while Nick poured (and managed an occasional ogle at the fashion parade). Lorraine Gust, Nick's attractive wife, was a fashionplate ringsider. . . . Besides a wide selection of choice steaks, the Sirloin Steak Pit in Daly City lists such taste buds delectables as Barbecued Half Chicken a la Senor Hernandez, served with his own special barbecue sauce. Top it off with a pitcher of draft beer, and you'll think it's Summer already. . . . Lucien Sabella, owner of A. Sabella's at Fisherman's Wharf, reports that Judy, the roast beef carver who dresses in a miniskirt, is now demonstrating her slicing skills Monday through Friday from 5:30 to 9:00 p.m. A. Sabella's also offers a luncheon daily for low calorie dieters (250-450 calories).

Lorraine Gust

Commemorating her 75th birthday, Mrs. Ida Petri, a native of San Francisco, was hosted to a gala celebration in the Tapestry banquet room at Joe's of Hillsdale by her son, Art Petri, host owner of this bustling Hillsdale Shopping Center restaurant, and her daughter, Mrs. Melba Maffei. One hundred friends and relatives were in attendance. . . . When you dine at Torres at Montara Beach, you dine amidst the traditions of Frank and Fannie Torres, who have been running their restaurant-hotel since the day it opened 19 years ago. Serving special Peruvian recipes, a variety of sea food dishes, and other menu favorites is part of this tradition. . . . A lunch regular at Tommy's Joyst in San Francisco is former Mayor George Christopher. When he was San Francisco's chief guy at the City Hall, which is near Tommy's, he was a lunch and sometime dinner devotee — and he still is from his dairy farm, also near Tommy's.

Art Petri

Petite Theresa Urban, who "roll calls" Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City, along with her sister, Mary Len, and hubby, Bud, had an interesting conflag with Roy Shipstad of the Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies fame during his dinner visit here the other evening. "I've joined the 'Bing Crosby Club,'" said Shipstad with pride. "Can't wait to get home to my 10-month-old baby daughter." . . . One of the most popular take-out specials in San Mateo is a Foster's Farm-Fried Chicken Dinner. Ideal for outdoor or home party gatherings. For $3.75 you receive 14 pieces of chicken, 10 biscuits and a pint of gravy. This is for a serving of five persons. If you have a smaller group, what's better than cold chicken the next day? Special prices for very large groups. . . . Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco has a varied service to fit the desires of any dinner party. The leisurely diners in the beautiful Wellington Room can take their time with their sipping and sipping, while those going to a theater, most of which are within a few blocks of the Steakery, get speedy service.

Theresa Urban

The New Shirt-tail restaurant in Palo Alto has caught on in a big way with businessmen taking their noonday lunch breaks, as well as the early evening cocktail and dinner set. Offering the ultimate in menu fare and dining comfort, the Shirt-tail also boasts of having one of the smartest cocktail lounges in the Bay Area. Bob Lucas entertains at the piano bar. . . . In addition to being well known for its pizzas, Romano's Italian restaurant is also famed on the coast side (Pacifica) for its chicken cacciatore (with mushrooms), chicken liver saute, chicken saute sec, frogs legs, lobster tail and club steak. . . . Great musical action at San Mateo's "Fork 'n' Cork" Wednesday through Saturday, when David Dodd presides at the organ bar from 9 p.m. The luncheon, dinner and outside catering banner flies seven days a week. . . . There are myriad gourmet treats in store for you at the new Dell'Osso's restaurant in San Mateo, and one of the finest served by Vincent Dell'Osso himself is the Chateaubriand for Two. This includes tossed green salad, artichoke hearts and ravioli. All dinners are presented in the Mediterranean tradition.

V. Dell'Osso

Chatted with Vince Licata during Wednesday luncheon at Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant and made the remark that he leads a nice quiet life. "What do you mean?" said Vince with a smile. "I get up at 4 a.m. every day in order to be on the docks of San Francisco at 5:30 to meet the crab and fish boats and select fish for the restaurant. When getting back to San Mateo, I help the employees prepare sea food for the restaurant and delicatessen." Guess that sort of answers any questions as to the life of a "sea going restaurateur." . . . Attention, families: A real good thing is happening at Kibby's in Hillsdale. Owner Dick Beers is now featuring a new menu of taste tempters which lists nothing over a dollar. Better give this budget buy a try. . . . Among the notable diners recently at Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina were Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Sanford of San Mateo, celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary; KGO-TV newscaster Ray Tannehill and KTVU's Pat McCormick.

Vince Licata

The Crestmoor High School basketball team was the first group to invade the newly-expanded banquet facilities at the Black Angus in San Mateo. Owner Vern Coenenberg keeps the "serve yourself, all you can eat" chuck wagon filled to the brim with big appetite pleasers. If you walk away from this spread hungry, it's no one's fault but your own. . . . Sal Campagna, the House of Troy's genial host, is extra busy these days. What with teaching school by day and running the sheebang at 1240 El Camino, San Carlos, nights and Saturdays, he's busy enough the rest of the year. But comes baseball season, and this former ballplayer has to keep up with all the facts, figures, and battles going on in his favorite sport, too. . . . If you and the gang want to get together for cocktails, luncheon or dinner, the excellent banquet facilities at New Southern restaurant in South San Francisco are at your disposal, with a special menu. Party arrangements may be made by phoning Rene or Julio Donati, or Nick Sharra.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Russo's Restaurant
Example of Progress
Vince Russo, owner of Russo's Restaurant, is an example of progress in San Mateo County. In 1951, Vince opened a small cocktail lounge on the El Camino in San Bruno and called it the Lazy V. A few years later, the first step toward an ultimate goal was accomplished when lunches were served to accommodate patrons. Dinners were to follow shortly thereafter. Finally the addition of four banquet rooms and expansion of the dining area. Now, with beautiful facilities, tastefully done to add to dining comfort, plus a fine menu of Continental cuisine and steaks, and dancing Friday and Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. to the Little Moses Duo, Vince Russo decided to rededicate the establishment, giving it his family name, Russo's. . . . The nimble fingers of Gary Long at the piano is a feature every evening, except Sunday, at Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn, South San Francisco.

Activity Set
For All DC
Playgrounds

The Daily City Recreation Department is sponsoring an official Duncan Yo-Yo Contest for boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 15, March 24-27.

A citywide championship contest will be held on March 29 at the girls' gymnasium, Westmoor High School, 131 Westmoor Avenue.

Contests will be conducted on all local playgrounds to determine first, second and third place winners in each age group. All first place winners in each age group will be eligible to compete in the citywide contest.

Winners on local playground level will receive certificates and official badges. Citywide champions will receive ribbons, championship badges and an official Duncan Yo-Yo.

The participants will compete in the following age groups:

BOYS — 6-8 years old, 10-12 years old, 13-15 years old.

GIRLS — 6-9 years old, 10-12 years old, 13-15 years old.

Boys and girls may register at their local playground through Saturday.

March 22 has been designated as an official practice session.

Children are urged to contact their playground leaders for exact time.

Official rules and trick descriptions will be posted at all contest sites, and recreation leaders will be happy to assist participants.

Youthful D.C. Leaders Win City Honors

Youthful city government leaders and their professional counterparts were honored at a luncheon meeting jointly sponsored by the Daily City-Colma Chamber of Commerce and City of Daily City Friday.

The high school students — participants in the annual Youth in Government Week — were praised by school administrators, school district trustees, city councilmen and other officials, for their interest in the workings of city government throughout the year.

Jefferson High School trustee Elio Fontana called the 18 students "leaders of tomorrow" and said they were excellent examples of the high caliber of most of today's young people.

Several other officials bolstered this statement by pointing up examples of the interest the students from the city's high schools had shown in their respective posts during the week.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lyett said "this is a story of involvement" and promised the youths an "interesting week."

Recreation Department director Mickey Corso was likewise praised by the mayor for "putting this whole program together."

Monday night the youthful councilmen and their student staff will sit in on a typical study session with their older counterparts and will prepare their own meeting agenda on Tuesday night.

SOME DECORATING IDEAS

There are always changes taking place in the furniture and decorating fields, some lasting, others short-lived.

Manufacturers, whole salers, retailers, and decorators keep a watchful eye on these changes which in some cases, have a great effect on our buying habits and future home atmosphere.

Here are a few of these changes noted by various sources recently.

Manufacturers report that home makers want wider choices in colors and patterns to add new excitement to rooms and they are offering new color and pattern ideas.

A recent award-winning room display added a new dimension to dining room library idea with one solid wall for books. Such a combination can be very attractive and useful.

More outdoor fabrics are being used indoors because of their "leisure look" and greater durability.

"The Total Look" in furnishing can now include everything in the room including even such things as window shades which used to always be white, gray or beige and gave a uniform appearance in all homes. Now shades come in all different colors, trims and designs to complement the pattern, texture, and color of the walls, floors and furniture.

If you need help in coordinating your rooms, please stop in and we will talk over your furnishing needs and desires without obligation.

And to see new ideas and a fine selection of furniture visit our showrooms.

Ryan Stresses Priority For Pacifica Road

The planned Interstate Highway 380 connecting road between Pacifica and the bayshore is "the most important single road project in San Mateo County," Assemblyman Leo Ryan said yesterday, and, when completed, it will "be like a blood transfusion" for the coast-side city.

"I have placed this project at the top of my list of priorities for this area," Ryan told Pacifica Chamber of Commerce members, "and I suggest that you do the same."

He urged city and C of C officials to continue "applying the pressure" upon the California Highway Commission until the project is completed.

"Those matters taken care of first are those pressed for the most by local residents," he said. "You can't just sit back and wait your turn, because there are serious highway problems from San Diego to the Oregon border."

Most present members of the highway commission have held their positions less than two years, and "they must be educated about the problems of our area," the assemblyman said.

In other areas, Ryan said he intends to "defer to the judgment of local residents" in the matter of a proposed time extension for the West Bay Rapid Transit District project.

"I personally feel they have had enough time to come up with a suitable plan, and should be ready to go by now," he said.

"This is, however, a local problem, and I will defer to your judgment."

Ryan said the deadline for reaching a decision on whether or not the scheduled June election on dissolving the Rapid Transit District will be held is April 1.

"I urge you to make your position known by that date," he said.

He indicated he will support "some sort of regional government measure" this session, but said he feels the bill now under consideration for the Bay Area is too broad.

Need Something Now
"Some sort of regional government is needed now," he said. "Many problems, such as garbage disposal and water pollution control, cannot be solved in any other way."

"There are now 14 regional agencies in existence in the Bay Area. A regional government, ideally, should simply combine these agencies into one entity." Ryan noted that there are 34 states in the country with a smaller population than the Bay Area counties, and "16 states with smaller land areas."

Comments Caravan
He commended Pacifica school officials and government and civic leaders for their participation in the "Equalize Education Now" campaign and caravan to Sacramento last week, and said the local project "should set a pattern for action in other communities."

He said the "march" will have a positive impact upon pending legislation to equalize the state's school districts.

The chamber of commerce luncheon was held at the High Iron Restaurant in Pacifica.

Founder's Day At Parkside

The February meeting of the Parkside P-TA was the annual Founders Day for that unit.

Mrs. Herbert John was the Founder's Day chairman and honorary life chairman. The committee, consisted of Ray Augustus, Ray Stagnaro, Mrs. Harold Preston and Mrs. DeWitt Samora.

This committee set up a parody of the "Dating Game" to disclose the identity of their winners. Harper Peterson was the M.C., Augustus was to receive the "date" and representing the "dates" were: Mrs. John Hilmer, Harold Preston and Mrs. DeWitt Samora. At the end of the program, the recipients were Mrs. David Raff, who was honored for her many years of P-TA work at Belle Aire School, Parkside School and Crestmoor High School, as well as her volunteer work in the Lutheran church and Campfire organization; Mrs. Dorothy Herauf, art teacher at Parkside School for many years and her willingness to help the P-TA and students in any project at any time. She has been in charge of the carnival advertising and decorations for many years and has decorated for the graduation dance since she has been at Parkside. At present, she is compiling a group of pictures to be viewed in the student gallery at the International Airport.

Mrs. Dai Sheehan, school secretary, was honored for her help in typing and editing the monthly "Parkside Scope" for several years. She also types all of the programs for the meetings and runs off all P-TA material in addition to her own job. Dai is quite active at Saint Robert's Church and the YLI Group and also is a past president of the Teachers' Association in San Bruno. All three of these recipients are well known at Parkside School and in the community and are well deserving of the Honorary Life Awards.

North Brae P-TA Honors Members

Mrs. John O'Brien and Duncan Houston were presented awards at the North Brae P-TA tea held recently at the school.

Mrs. O'Brien received her honorary life membership award based on her service to youth in the community. She has been with the unit since 1959, holding various positions including a two-year term as president. She is currently the safety, health and welfare chairman and is also a non-duty supervisor.

Mrs. O'Brien has also devoted much of her time to boy scouting. She is also active in church work, is a member of the Fuchsia Society and the Women's Sewing Circle in San Bruno. Houston is principal of north Brae and Edgemont Schools and serves as honorary vice-president of both school's P-TA's.

He received the continuing service award based on his efforts to help youth in the community. He received the life membership award from Parkside P-TA several years ago.

Past presidents of the unit were also honored and presented with gifts and corsages by President Mrs. Crescencio Alena.

The traditional birthday cake was served following the day's program.

Grind Pre-cooked Liver for Croquettes

"I fry it, braise it, bake it, make a loaf out of it, cut it in strips or cubes for spaghetti sauce," claims a homemaker talking about getting liver into the family meals. "What have I missed?"

Another way to prepare liver is to make it into croquettes, says Reba Staggs, meat expert with the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Salt pork and onion add flavor of their own to this nutritious variety meat. Croquettes are attractive to serve, accompanied by Tomato Sauce.

Some may prefer preparing the croquettes by deepfat frying while others may like them finished in the oven. The moistness that makes them so palatable is retained by either method.

Liver Croquettes—Tomato Sauce
1 pound sliced liver
1/2 pound salt pork
1 medium-sized onion, chopped
4 slices bread
Milk to moisten
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese, if desired
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1-3 cup chopped, green stuffed olives
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup crushed cornflakes
Lard for deep-fat frying
Slice salt pork and cook until crisp and lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Remove from frying pan. Add liver and onion to salt pork drippings and cook 5 minutes. Put salt pork, liver and onion through food grinder. Break bread into small pieces and soak in enough milk to moisten. Combine liver mixture with parsley, cheese, pepper, olives and moistened bread. Shape into small balls about the size of a walnut. Dip balls into egg diluted with milk, then roll in crushed cornflakes. Fry in deep hot lard (350 degrees) or bake on a greased cookie sheet in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, until lightly browned. Serve with hot Tomato Sauce. Yield: 30 to 35 croquettes.

Tomato Sauce
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon horseradish
Combine tomato and chili sauces, Worcestershire sauce and horseradish. Heat thoroughly. Pour sauce over Liver Croquettes and serve. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

It's A Giant Supply Line

American meat industry supplies about 200,000,000 people with a constant selection of nutritious meats. This supply is produced by 2,200,000 cattlemen, about 1,000,000 hog producers and about 200,000 sheep producers.

Feedlots for cattle number about 200,000 in the 32 cattle-feeding states.

But that's not all! To sell 42,000,000 bovines, 75,000,000 porkers and 15,000,000 sheep and lambs each year requires 52 central livestock markets, over 2,200 livestock auction markets and thousands of concentration yards and dealer's markets. Rounding out these units in the producer-to-packer, there are more than 3,000 packing plants plus another 1,500 firms processing meats purchased from the packers.

Bake Patties Of Sausages

They'll come to breakfast or supper, these pork sausage patties which can be baked in the oven. Mix one pound of bulk pork sausage with one slice of bread, broken into small pieces. Combine with one egg, slightly beaten, one-half cup of grated apple and one teaspoon of salt. Mix well and shape into six patties. Place on a rack in an open pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees, F.) for 45 minutes.

SERVE A DECORATIVE cranberry cake for your family and friends this Easter. They're great in flavor and grand in appearance.

Cinnamon Candies Make Your Dumplings Sparkle

An old-fashioned oven dessert provides a welcome finale to dinner. With apples in season, it's timely to prepare a baked fruit dumpling to serve with a pretty pink sauce.

Biscuit-type dough is rolled one-eighth-inch thick and cut into five-inch squares to enclose baking apples. The dough will be tender and flaky when made with lard, advises Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Apple dumplings are really glorified baked apples since they're made with sliced apples, wrapped in a biscuit blanket. Select apples that bake well. Among these are Baldwin, Early Harvest, McIntosh, Roman Beauty, Northern Spy and Wine-sap varieties.

When drawing the biscuit square up to cover the apples, make certain the dough is large enough to cover the fruit without stretching.

Prick the top surface of the dough just as you would an apple pie so steam can escape.

Red cinnamon candies add color and spice to both apples and accompanying sauce. The warm dumplings, topped with sauce provide one of the most heart-warming desserts of the season.

Cinnamon Apple Dumplings
3 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 to 8 teaspoons lard
3/4 to 1 cup milk

5 to 6 large apples, pared and sliced
1 tablespoon red cinnamon candies
1/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has fine even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Knead 30 seconds. Roll to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into 5-inch squares. Combine apples with cinnamon candies and sugar. Fill centers of biscuit squares with apple mixture. Dot with butter or margarine. Draw up the corners of the dough to completely cover the apples. Press edges to seal. Place on greased shallow baking pan and prick the top surface of dumplings. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Yield: 8 dumplings.

Cinnamon Sauce for Apple Dumplings

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups water
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons red cinnamon candies
Mix sugar and cornstarch. Add water, butter and cinnamon candies. Stir well. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened, about 20 minutes.

Tight Wrap, Loose Wrap

Some meats keep best when tightly wrapped for storage. These include ham, bacon, sausage (smoked or unsmoked) and frankfurters. Plan to save the wrapping it which they come so it can be reused around the unused portion of these meats.

Prepackaged, fresh meats can be stored in their original wrappings for one to two days. For best flavor plan to use ground or variety meats within a day or two after purchasing. Steaks, chops, roasts or other cuts to be stored three to four days should be rewrapped loosely. Partial drying on surface increases keeping quality.

Quick Touch To A Lunch

Sprinkle drained canned cling peach halves with cinnamon and brown sugar. Dot with butter and broil until tinged with brown. Serve with corned beef and cheese sandwiches for a quick lunch or supper.

Women Shop Impulsively

Women who do more than one-half the purchasing at supermarkets still buy as impulsively as they did five years ago, according to a recent survey.

Meat, however, is not on the impulse list. More than 70 per cent of the shoppers think about fresh meat purchases ahead of time. In fact, 28 per cent of the shoppers report they will visit another supermarket just to buy their meat.

Party Pork Dish

Any of the pork roasts, loin, sirloin, shoulder or leg of pork, looks festive enough for a party when it's served surrounded with bread dressing balls.

The dressing balls are easily made from commercial, seasoned bread cubes according to package directions or from your own dressing. During the last 45 minutes of cooking time, place dressing balls right on the rack with the meat, to heat through and brown.

Chill Breeding on Meat

Plentiful supplies of pork reaching the market now give homemakers a generous supply of pork steaks to provide hearty good eating.

After the pork steaks are dipped in the egg-milk and fine dry bread crumb mixtures, they should be chilled for one-half to one hour so the coating clings to the steak, points out meat authority, Reba Staggs, with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Breaded Pork Steaks
4 pork shoulder steaks, cut 1/2-inch thick
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon sage
1 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup lard or drippings
Beat eggs slightly and add milk. Mix sage, salt and pepper with crumbs. Dip steaks in crumbs, then in egg mixture, then in crumbs again. Brown in lard or drippings. Cook at a moderate temperature until done, turning occasionally to insure even cooking. Four servings.

Father Likes Pot Roast Flavorsome

Robust flavor, rich and red-brown, that's how men like their beef pot-roast.

Blade or arm pot-roasts are plentiful at the market, points out meat authority, Reba Staggs of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. They give a fully satisfying dinner on a cold night. When it's made especially for dad, he'll like it cooked slowly to tenderness with tomato sauce, ground beef, mushrooms and a light spicing.

Dad's Pot-Roast
3 to 4-pound arm or blade pot-roast

3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 pound ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onion

Spicy Pudding

Bake rice pudding in individual cups. Heat canned fruit cocktail with dash of cinnamon and nutmeg and thicken slightly with cornstarch. Unmold rice pudding and top with hot spicy fruit sauce.

1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 clove garlic, minced
1 1/2 cups chopped celery
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 cup water

Brown pot-roast in lard. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add remaining ingredients, cover tightly and simmer 3 to 3 1/2 hours, or until tender. 6 to 8 servings.

Fuel Saver With Meat

Save fuel as well as meat by cooking at lower temperatures. No matter what the method, lower temperatures have much to recommend them in meat cookery.

With lower temperatures meat is braised to tenderness. Broiling, pan-frying or pan-broiling is accomplished without smoking when done at lower temperatures. Slow to moderate oven temperatures roast meat to desired degree of doneness without drying.

Give Lift to Lunch Box

Those last bits of roast, yielding about one cup, can go into sandwich filling.

Grind or chop finely the cooked meat, then mix with one-fourth cup of chopped cabbage, three tablespoons chopped pickle and one tablespoon finely chopped onion, all moistened with one-third cup of mayonnaise.

Dr. in the Kitchen

To discuss the B vitamins we will need to talk about 11 substances in the so-called vitamin B complex. Seven of these substances in the so-called vitamin B complex. Seven of these vitamins are essential in your diet. You need them daily. The other four are not necessarily essential in your meals. Two of these the body can form from other compounds. Research has not yet demonstrated that the last two are essential for humans. All are water-soluble, as is vitamin C.

The discovery of the B vitamins is quite romantic. A Dutch surgeon, in Java, observed that chickens all when they ate polished rice scraps from a military hospital commissary. They recovered from paralysis when he fed them natural rice, complete with the outer layers of hull removed when polished rice was milled. The disease suffered by the chickens, ducks and pigeons fed the polished rice seemed similar to a common and serious disease in man, called beriberi.

Thiamin helps promote normal appetite and digestion. It helps keep the nervous system healthy and helps to prevent irritability. It also helps the body release energy from food. A very important vitamin, to say the least.

It is present in many foods but primarily so in only a few. Lean pork is one of the best foods for obtaining thiamin. Other meats, fish and poultry, eggs, enriched or whole grain breads and cereals, dried beans and peas, and finally, potatoes, broccoli, and collards are good sources.

Riboflavin or vitamin B2 is a water-soluble yellow pigment, importantly available in milk, all kinds of cheese, ice cream, meat (especially liver), fish, poultry, and eggs. Stable to heat, riboflavin content is not particularly reduced, for example, in milk by drying or pasteurizing, but exposure to sunlight will destroy large portions of this vitamin. This is one reason nutritionists recommend you keep milk out of the sunlight.

What does riboflavin do for you? It helps the cells use oxygen. It helps keep your skin, tongue, and lips normal. It helps prevent scaly, greasy skin from forming around your mouth and nose. In animals, nutritionists say, too little riboflavin during pregnancy may result in abnormalities or loss of the fetus. We don't know whether congenital defects in humans are due to inadequate riboflavin in the diet of the mother.

More on the B vitamins next week.

An Insitution

A wise old judge said, "Digging up facts may be a hard job, but it's worth much more than jumping at conclusions."

Ever since 1868, the World Almanac has been a standard book of facts. It has become an American institution, part of the scene like Webster's Dictionary and Bartlett's Quotations.

Since 1868 the goals of the editors have not changed to make a "compendium of universal knowledge." The 1969 edition has been called a book that records the trends and current development in specific areas of human activity.

Take women's fashions, for example. Last year a monthly average of 56,435 people were employed in the women's hosiery industry. They made 119,159,389 dozen pairs. That is eight million more dozen pairs than the combined total of hose, socks, and stockings that were made for men and children and infants combined.

Facts given in the World Almanac about the war in Vietnam show that 29,184 Americans have been killed in action and 4,807 have died from accidents or from causes other than enemy action.

According to military officials, the total of wounded in Vietnam would be less if judged by the standards of World War II and the Korean War. Nevertheless, more men are dying in Vietnam than died in the American Revolution or in any of this country's wars in the nineteenth century.

It is a pleasure to note in the World Almanac that Americans are becoming better educated. The median years of schooling completed by white adults twenty to twenty-four years old is over twelve; for non-white the same age — the average is over nine years.

By comparisons, the average by whites over sixty is a little over eight years and by non-whites 5.9 years.

The 1969 World Almanac contains a colored atlas of fourteen pages showing the nations of the world as they look today. There are four pages showing the flags of the nations including Southern Yemen, Nauru, Mauritius and Swaziland which are the newest nations in the world.

The World Almanac gives the address of your favorite movie star, location of the national parks, monuments, forests, historic sites or memorials that you wished to visit. The ship route to your favorite spot on earth, the economics of the country, the accidents that have occurred. Indeed, thirty-one pages are used to list the topics that are discussed in the World Almanac.

The 1969 World Almanac comes in three editions: a soft color edition from the publisher, Newspaper Enterprise Association Inc., a hard cover edition from Doubleday and Co., and a microfilm edition from Bell & Howell Co.

No home should be without a copy.

Irish Legend

Total involvement was what the Stanford Speech and Drama Department promised and they delivered in full.

As if sight and sound wasn't enough to engage one in the staggering but theatrically compelling six hour production of William Butler Yeats' "Cuchulain," they threw in a medieval banquet in the adjoining Business School for every one of the 225 patrons who attended the play.

The conception of the four play myth cycle produced under the direction of Paul Rebillot was created by Peggy Tonkonogy, Gerald Kelly and Lee Miller as "An Experiment In Multi-Media Theater." It was a total success in every aspect: film, dance, chorus, acting, costume, light design, set design, posters, programs, food music. And this small tribute to the superb coordination of all these is paltry compared to the monumental work it took involving hundreds of people. That it went off so smoothly is even more commendable.

The weekend events began both nights at 6 p.m. with "At The Hawk's Well" and "Baile's Strand." With much ceremony and medieval grandeur the audience repaired to the building across from the Little Theater (an eleventh hour change Friday from the vaulted foyer of Memorial Auditorium due to County Health regulations) and snuggled amid jugglers, strolling players, cheerful wench maids in costume. The King of the play and his court bade us welcome and good cheer from an elevated table flanked by banners and tall candles.

The food was the united effort of fraternity houses and assorted volunteer campus groups. Piles of fresh fruit, hot cider, chunks of homemade brown bread and pitchers of warm honey decorated the long tables as diners ate chunks of roast beef, cheese and spiced apples in their hands.

BACK AT THE THEATER BY 9:15 P.M. for two lengthy and brooding sequences involving the legendary Irish King. "The Only Jealousy of Emer" and "Death Of Cuchulain" drew to a close at 12:15 a.m.

The mood of the musical accompaniment changed many times during the evening. Musicians seated on both sides of the deep, open-spaced stage counterpointed the action with rock, baroque, Indian and classical accompaniment in predominantly percussion and flute with string bass and kyoto occasionally heard.

The style of the drama varied from Kabuki to Elizabethan with overtones of Greek Miracle Drama and chorus participation. The stage was richly textured with supple jersey and pliant chamomis as the dance chorus rippled like waves, the lights and smoke heightening that effect to excellent measure.

Elaborate silver and gold masks, shields and swords dramatically dominated the simple platform stage. But designer Richard L. Hay reached out with an overhead parallel shaft of foil covered beams that begin at the back of the stage and extended out behind the audience. Lights play on the side walls and actors made their entrances through the audience.

THE PROGRAM WAS SO VIUSALLY STUNNING, one made concessions to its slow, ritualistic, almost hypnotic pace. I wish it could run longer (completely sold out in advance) and be enjoyed by more people. A memorable theatrical experience, it played only last weekend.

The cast was uniformly good, participating in a labor of love that was flawless in its representation of all media. Sam Blackwell made a powerful and heroic Cuchulain. Brenda Beckett was effectively tragic as Queen Emer. Bill Clebsch, Roberta Levitow, Alan Cohen, Richard Kite and Barbara Epmeier deserve more praise than this space allows.

Even the 12-page magazine giving Judith Burgess' and Hans Wheril's illustrated interpretation of Yeats' poetry was impressive. I'm overwhelmed at the amount of work that went into the production and the heart given to it.

Turning Green

SURE, AND EVERYONE turned out to help Dear Old St. Pat drive the snakes out of the county last Sunday.

Daly City's own PATRICK ED MAC OLSSON (who masquerades most of the year as ED A. OLSSON) was seen wearing the green at his Cliff House restaurant Sunday in the form of an Irish topper and ribbon pin, proclaiming him as "Honorary Irishman."

And MAYOR BUD LYCETT turned every-one green (some with envy) over his rendition of an Old Irish ballad at the Youth in Government luncheon at International Joe's Italian restaurant on Thursday. . . . But those eat-eries that feature GREEN sugar and salt on St. Patty's Day . . . ecch!

RUMORS GALORE DEPT.—Big movement underway to seat D. C. Mayor Lyett for an unprecedented third term as mayor. He says he's tired. But at least two other councilmen think Lyett is doing one heckuva job and want him to hang on. Being mayor of the county's second largest city isn't a snap—ask any of the others who have already sat in the middle chair. EDDIE DENNIS is next in line for the post, but the veteran councilman has been putting in extra hours during the past year at his "fulltime" job as head of the Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees Union. Our source informs us that Dennis also backs the "Keep Lyett mayor" move.

FORMER FOOTBALL STAR and now County Supervisor, BOB ST. CLAIR, sent his regards the other day to those Youth in Government participants, adding at the end of the telegram "All us old fogies aren't up tight." Hopefully that little bit will bridge the communications gap between today's youth and us old fogies.

THIS HAS GOTTA BE the quietest election year yet! Haven't heard "boo" from any of those candidates running in the Jeff High or Jeff Elementary races to date. And the ballot box is only a month away. Good Old Public Apathy strikes again.

ALL THAT HOGWASH about California sliding into the sea! Those experts sure told the crystal ball gazers a thing or two the other day. Not a chance of such a preposterous thing happening, after all THIS IS AMERICA, and such things don't happen.

We branded as pure nonsense statements about major earthquakes as far back as March 1906. There just isn't any truth in those harem-scarem predictions and I refuse to dignify them by commenting further. Besides I've got to go down and sign up for ten swimming lessons, pronto.

SICK CALL —MRS. ANNA OHLENDORF, Daly City clerk, recovering from surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco. Last time we checked, visitors were out, but cards were in. . . . D.C. Director of Finance BOB HOSSLI smitten by that nasty old flu bug. Recovering at home. . . . Superior Judge FRANK BLUM pounding the pavement again following major surgery at Mary's Help.

FREE PLUG SECTION—Teevee and radio announcer FRANK DILL will be fashion commentator for the parade of fashions luncheon and fashion show at the Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae on March 27.

Some lucky person will leave the luncheon with two round-trip tickets to Hawaii. Tickets are $5.50 per person. Mrs. Frank Greenwood, at 756-7916 . . . candidates night for both Jeff High and elementary districts will be staged March 26 at Westmoor High. R. J. Miguel, at 756-1545.

Truth-in-Lending

The Federal Reserve Board has prepared a question and answer summary designed to explain the truth-in-lending provisions of the Consumer Credit Protection Act in simplified terms to creditors as well as to consumers. These questions and answers are no substitute for the truth in the lending Regulation Z, which spells out the rules to be followed by the nation's creditors in carrying out the provisions of truth-in-lending. Regulation Z should be consulted by persons who must comply with the truth-in-lending law.

1—What is Truth-in-Lending and its purpose?

It is a major part of the Consumer Credit Protection Act signed into law on May 29, 1968, following its adoption by the 90th Congress. Effective July 1, 1969 it will require creditors to inform their customers of all the direct and indirect costs, terms and conditions of a credit arrangement. Its purpose is to foster the informed use of credit by consumers — make the consumers aware of the cost of credit and enable them more readily to compare the terms available from various credit sources.

2—Will Truth-in-Lending fix a maximum charge for credit?

No. It will merely insure that a customer is advised of all the costs and conditions of the credit he is seeking.

3—Is there a government regulation spelling out how a creditor should comply with the law? Yes. The basic regulation, Regulation Z, was published on February 11. Enforcement of the law and regulation is divided among 9 different Federal departments and agencies according to classes of creditors.

4—What types of credit are covered by Truth-in-Lending?

Credit to individual for personal, family, household or agricultural purpose which does not exceed $25,000 is covered. All real estate credit made to individuals for such purposes is covered, no matter what the amount.

5—Are any types of credit exempt from Truth-in-Lending?

Yes, business and commercial credit are exempt as is credit to governmental units at Federal, State or local levels. A governmental unit which extends credit to an individual for personal, family, household, agricultural purposes must abide by the law. Transactions in securities or commodity accounts with a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and some types of tariffs are exempt. Credit exceeding $25,000 is also exempt except for real estate credit.

6—Can a State law substitute for the required Federal disclosure?

Under the law the Federal Reserve Board shall exempt from Federal disclosure requirements classes of transactions within a State if it determines that State law imposes substantially similar requirements and adequate enforcement is provided. Guidelines for states seeking exemption are being drafted by Board.

7—Who must comply with Truth-in-Lending?

Any person or business which regularly extends or arranges for credit to individuals for personal, family, household or agricultural purposes.

8—In what way must the credit terms and conditions be disclosed?

Information must be in terminology specified in Regulation Z—must be clear and conspicuous and in writing. Credit may include additional information but must not confuse the required disclosure.

9—What information must be provided.

The charges a customer must pay to obtain credit including, in most cases, the finance charge and the annual percentage rate.

Next week: The finance charge and annual percentage rate.

Getting Through to Kids

Students breaking into a classroom, smattering the walls with paint, destroying phonograph records and other paraphernalia and generally throwing everything around in one big mess is no longer news. Except that those who did this in a classroom in Morristown, N. J., were four-year-olds and it was their kindergarten classroom they attacked.

Which brings home the remarks made by Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black, on the occasion of the court's ruling which upheld the right of elementary and high school students to demonstrate and forbade officials to suspend them as offensive to free speech.

Justice Black, dissenting, said, "I want it thoroughly understood that I disclaim any sentence, any word, any part of what the court does today. . . . If the time has come when students of state-supported schools, kindergarten, grammar school, or high school, can flout orders of school officials to keep their minds on their own school work, it is the beginning of a new revolutionary era of permissiveness."

Apparently, even the kindergarten set got the message.

THANKS FOR SCHOOL HOUSE — Marine Reserve Major Peter Lynch, accepts a plaque signed by the Commandant of the Marine Corps commending the men of his San Bruno based Third Battalion, Twenty-third Marines and the people of the Peninsula who built a school house in South Vietnam with a donation of $1,600. More Skyline Aides Named

Two new key administrative appointments for Skyline College were announced today by President Philip C. Garlington. They involve:

James C. Wyatt of Daly City, current dean of men at San Mateo Junior College District's Canada College, who will be dean of student services at Skyline.

David P. Marin, chairman of the journalism department at Diablo Valley College in the East Bay and widely known writer and speaker, who will be associate dean of instruction and director of the Skyline evening college.

Both appointments were approved last night by district trustees.

Trustees also named Mary E. Anderson of Belmont, a divisional secretary at College of San Mateo, to be secretary to the dean of instruction at Skyline, and awarded Skyline library furniture and shelving contracts totaling $61,591 to Western Contract Furnishers and W. R. Ames Company, low bidders.

Skyline College, now nearing completion, will open to students in September. The campus is located in the Pacific Heights area of San Bruno, at the west end of College Drive.

Capuchino Variety Show Next Week

Capuchino Band Boosters will be serving refreshments at the Italian-Catholic Federation's Variety Show, March 29 at Capuchino High School auditorium.

The San Mateo District Italian-Catholic Federation is staging the variety show to raise funds for the annual scholarship program they sponsor.

By giving the Capuchino Band Boosters the opportunity to serve refreshments of coffee, punch and cookies during intermission, the group will also aid in helping to buy new uniforms for Cap's 100-piece marching band.

Co-chairman, Mr. Michelini of San Bruno, announced that tickets went on sale last week for the March 29 show slated to start at 8 p.m.

Slides Close Trail Used by Students

A "riding trail" used by school children in the Fairmont area of Pacifica was closed by the city last week after earth slides covered the path at several points.

Utilized by children attending the Fairmont Elementary School, the trail, behind Brookhaven Court, was provided by developers of the Fairmont Subdivision, and is supposed to be maintained by the city, according to residents of the neighborhood.

Closing of the path means children from the neighborhood must now travel more than a mile to school, and transportation will have to be provided by the school district according to the residents.

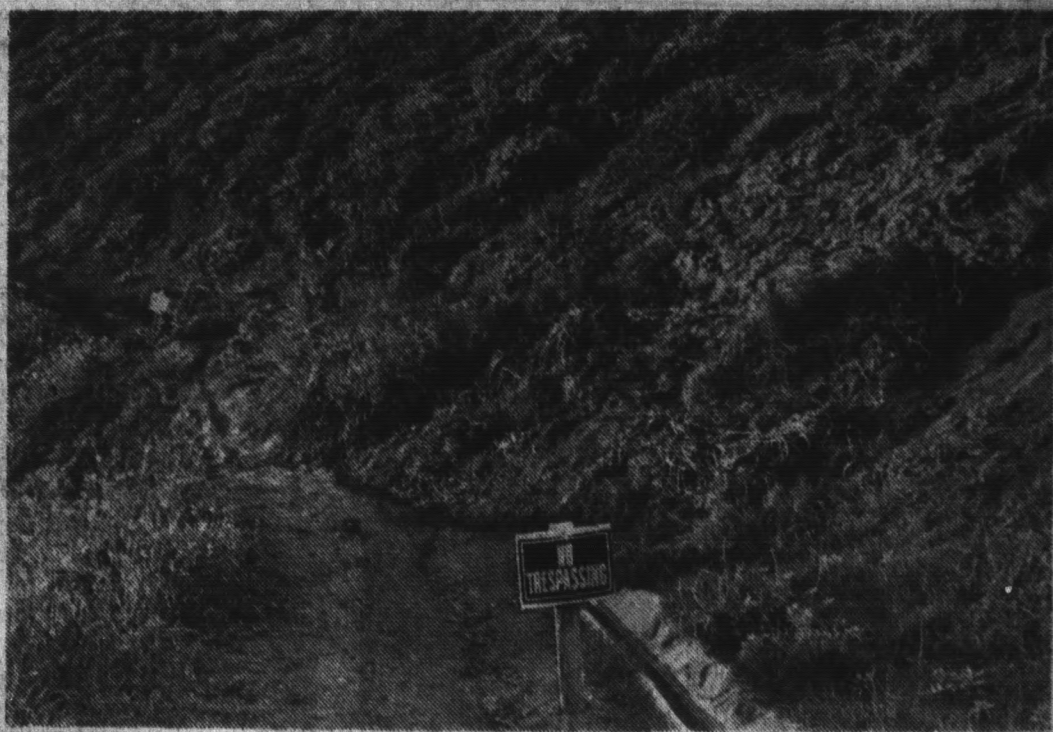

Mayor Nick Gust said city crews are "cleaning up" slides which occurred in several areas of the city during the recent heavy rains.

"I have told the Fairmont residents we will get around to the path as soon as we possibly can," the mayor said, "hopefully as soon as the rains stop."

Gust said public works employees feel it would be advisable to wait until the earth dries before attempting to repair the path.

Residents of the area have been critical of the city's performance in maintaining the path since it was opened for use four years ago.

"For the past two years, neither the city nor the school district has given any attention to keeping the gutters and catch basins in the area free of debris," one neighborhood spokesman said.

THIS RIDING TRAIL behind Brookhaven Court in Pacifica's Fairmont area was closed by the city last week because of earth slides. The path is used by children of the neighborhood who attend Fairmont Elementary School, according to residents, and the children will have to travel more than a mile to school until it is reopened. 300 Sign For CSM Program

College of San Mateo's special Readiness Program for minority students, which saw its fall semester enrollment of 400 drop off sharply in the days following the Dec. 13 campus violence, now has built the total back up to approximately 300.

That encouraging report was delivered last night to the board of trustees of San Mateo Junior College District during its regular meeting at Canada College in Redwood City.

Several other significant facts concerning the status of the program also were relayed to the board by CSM President Robert L. Ewigleben and Philip D. Morse, dean of student services:

1. The Readiness counseling staff has been increased from three persons to five, providing one counselor for every 60 students. (The counselor-student ratio for other aspects of the college operation is one-to-300.)
 2. The staff of the college financial aids office, which had been criticized as "inadequate" by Readiness students earlier in the year, has been boosted from two employees to five, and a sixth is expected to be hired soon.
 3. Thanks to the educational assistance received at College of San Mateo, an estimated 100 Readiness students will be eligible to transfer to four-year colleges at the end of the current semester. Sorely handicapped by past schooling deficiencies when they came to CSM, these students are now rated as being equipped to handle a full collegiate academic load.
 4. The community fund campaign, launched in January to raise $105,000 to match an emergency federal allocation of the same amount to provide grants to enable needy CSM students — most of them in the Readiness Program — to continue their education through this semester, is attracting widespread support. To date, approximately $55,000 has been contributed. These donations have supplied financial aid for 48 students who previously could be given no help and have made possible increasing aid to 102 students who had been receiving insufficient assistance. Some 250 of the 300 Readiness students are now, therefore, being covered by the college financial aid program.
 5. Efforts by the college, the Stanford Mid-Peninsula Urban Coalition and other community groups also are bearing fruit in terms of student employment. A major project is under way to offer full-time summer employment for all Readiness students, and part-time employment during the school year is "sharply on the rise."
 6. Projections indicate enrollment in the Readiness Program will increase to 600 next fall.
- Responding to a question from Readiness student James Bailey concerning operational finances and staffing, Dr. Ewigleben stressed that all additional personnel have been employed within the limitations of the college's available resources.
- "These gains, and they are very solid gains," he said, "have not been made available by any help from heaven or the federal government. The money has been taken out of the budgetary hides of virtually every other phase of our college operation, including my own office."
- "I hope what we are reporting here tonight will lay to rest, for once and for all, the misconception still held by some people in the Readiness Program that the administration of this college has been sitting on its hands and failing to move to meet their needs."

Some Gay, Brightly Seasoned Foods From South of the Border

The gay, brightly seasoned foods from south of the border accented with the shiny canned California ripe olive combine to create dishes with unique flavor for interesting low budget entertaining. Easily prepared, these delicious combinations are flavor pointed with chili seasoning and the nut-like goodness of the ripe olive. Influenced by the leisure of the sunny climates, these casseroles cook gently and wait for relaxed diners.

A colorful, delicious combination of browned chicken, tomato flavored rice, vegetables and herbs are accented for taste and eye appeal with ripe olives. Serve the chicken and rice in a gay, Mexican inspired casserole and let it add a festive note to the buffet table.

One of the most traditional casseroles from the land of the fiestas is made with beef, beans, cornmeal and chili seasoning. Crumbled, meaty textured canned ripe olives are added to the beef to enhance the flavor. Just before serving this casserole, top the ring of cornmeal with plump, canned ripe olives for a flavorful dark accent.

Ripe olives are one of the most versatile of delicious fruits and are as at home in a soup as they are in a stew. They nestle pleasingly into a salad and are friendly with many foods for interesting sandwich fillings.

RIPE OLIVE FIESTA CASSEROLE
2 pounds ground lean beef
1-3 cup olive oil or salad oil
1 300 can pitted California ripe olives
3 tablespoons chili powder
3 teaspoons salt
1 clove garlic, minced
1 1/2 cups chopped onion
6 cups cooked or canned pinto beans
4 cups cooked or canned pinto beans
4 cups tomato juice
6 cups water
3 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups yellow cornmeal

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Heat oil. Add beef and cook until browned. Drain olives; save 8 or 10 for garnishing. Crumble remaining olives and add to meat. Stir in chili powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, garlic, and onion. Cook together for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add beans and tomato juice. Bring 5 cups water to a boil. Add remaining 1 cup water into corn and butter to water. Stir remaining 1 cup water into cornmeal. Stir moistened cornmeal into boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Cool slightly. Line bottom and sides of a three quart casserole with two-thirds of cornmeal mixture. Spoon in the olive-meat-bean mixture. Spoon remaining cornmeal mixture in circle around edge. Bake for 30 minutes. Garnish with whole ripe olives. Makes 8 servings.

OLIVE-CHICKEN MEXICALI
1 cup canned California pitted ripe olives
1 3-pound chicken fryer
3 tablespoons olive or vegetable oil
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery

1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup long-grain white rice
1 cup canned tomato sauce
1 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon oregano
2 cups cooked or canned peas
1 canned pimiento, cut into strips
Cut ripe olives into halves.

Heat oil in large saucepan. Add chicken and brown well. Remove chicken from pan. Add onion, celery, green pepper and cook until tender but not brown. Add rice and mix well. Stir in tomato sauce, water, salt, and oregano. Bring to a full boil and stir mixture very well. Add ripe olive halves. Arrange chicken on top of mixture. Cover tightly and cook over low heat for about 40 minutes or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Add peas and cook just enough to heat peas. Arrange on serving dish and garnish with pimiento. Makes 4-6 servings.

RIPE OLIVE TOPKNOT TOMATOES
1 cup canned California pitted ripe olives

8 medium-size firm tomatoes
1 pound bulk pork sausage
1/2 cup minced onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon chili powder
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Save 8 whole ripe olives for garnish. Chop the remaining olives. Wash tomatoes. Take slice off bottom; save. Scoop out tomatoes and turn upside down to drain. Put sausage in skillet and cook, stirring occasionally, until sausage has browned. Add onion and garlic and cook until tender. Drain off fat. Stir in salt, pepper, chili powder, parsley, and chopped olives. Mix well.

Fill tomatoes with ripe olive-sausage mixture. Put filled tomatoes into shallow baking dish and bake for about 20 minutes or until tomatoes are tender. With toothpick, stick a pitted whole olive onto slice from each tomato. Place on top of each baked tomato. Makes 8 stuffed tomatoes.

Pick-Me-Up Dinner for Cold Days

One of the very best pick-me-ups for the doldrums is a hearty cold weather dinner made sparkling with the addition of hot cling peach halves or a colorful fruit cocktail sauce. We're suggesting several different ways to use these original convenience foods to revive winter appetites.

Tropical Ham
1 can (1 lb., 1 oz.) fruit cocktail
1 banana
1 1/2 lb. slice ham
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup flaked or shredded coconut
2 tablespoons vinegar
Ground nutmeg
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Drain fruit cocktail. Peel and quarter banana. Trim a little fat from edge of ham; heat in skillet with ovenproof handle to grease lightly. Add ham and brown on both sides. Arrange fruit cocktail and banana on top of ham. Mix honey, coconut, vinegar and nutmeg to taste; drizzle over fruit. Dot with butter. Bake in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Makes four to six servings.

No Surplus With Foods

Ever wondered what would happen if food production stopped today? By tomorrow, no milk would be available. In five days you would not be able to have either red meat or eggs. In a week, all chickens would be gone. In 25 days all canned and condensed milk would be used. In 38 days, the last turkey would have been eaten.

The Provender of Our Waters Need Never Become Dreary

In a curious fashion the forty days of Lent started most of us off on a long, long season of seafood. To many of us, Lent means seafood slightly dreary—reminders of dull, dry slabs of sole. But, summer usually celebrates seafood with wonderful shellfish, fresh brook trout, sunnies and bass from a mountain stream, bluefish... the list is endless.

Lent does not need to be the fish drearies—and spring-summer days of open waters and fresh fish can be more exciting if you take a look at the provender of our waters through the eyes of another fish loving part of the world—Bordeaux.

In the great vineyards of Bordeaux, where dry, white Graves, sweet Sauternes (and Barsac, its neighbor) are made, the delicious wine just naturally accompanies the abundance of fresh fish and seafood. Bordeaux, like northern California, lies in a long stretch of land full of streams and woods, but close to and parallel to the oceans. The whole Bordeaux region is famous for oysters, shrimp, fish of ocean and stream. And the wines of Bordeaux make every meal with fish.

The dry white wines of Bordeaux... drunk as a refreshing aperitif, and with the meal, are often the reason for a luncheon table heaped with plates of baby shrimp, little clams and small oysters, and mounds of cold wine-marinated fish. It is a sort of glorious French smorgasbord.

But for party fare and sheer gourmet heaven, the part of Bordeaux where fish reigns supreme may well be Sauternes. Sauternes, a sweet white wine, dashed by the cup into a chowder or soup, makes you into an instant gourmet.

Zipped into a baking fish's pan, it adds a tangy nearly perfect. But the best dish is poached fish—any white fish is great (which helps those frozen fillets) but salmon, turbot, granite fish, can only be bettered.

Poaching is easy. And, the same wine is used to make a sauce (it is rather like hollandaise and as easily made). Naturally, with this dish, you drink Sauternes.

Sauternes' sweet flavor is more pleasant to many an American palate than the more astrigent dry, white wines. Because no sugar or other sweeteners are added, the yellow-gold Sauternes wine isn't syrupy sweet, but is well suited to cooking as well as being served before, during and after a meal.

If you're not used to cooking with wine, it's a good idea to start out with several half bottles. But remember, what you don't use for cooking can be used as a refreshing cocktail before dinner or can be elegantly served during the meal. Always serve Sauternes well chilled, but not iced.

Salmon Scallops
Clean and skin salmon. Cut into bite-size pieces. Cover bottom of scallop shell with Sauternes sauce. Fill salmon pieces with sauce and place in shell. Top with more sauce and cook in the oven at 350 degree for 40 minutes.

Sauce Sauternes
for 4 to 6 people
1 cup butter melted
2 tablespoons cold butter
3 tablespoons fumet (1 cup fish stock boiled down to 3 tablespoons liquid) big pinch of salt
pepper
Beat egg yolks for 1 minute in saucepan. Add lump and salt. Beat for 1/2 minute more. Add cold butter, don't beat. Place saucepan over very low heat or barely simmering water and stir the egg yolks with a wire whip until they slowly thicken into a smooth cream (1 to 2 minutes). Immediately remove from heat and beat in 1 tablespoon cold butter. Beating the eggs with wire whip, pour on melted butter by droplets until sauce begins to thicken into heavy cream. Pour butter a little more rapidly. Omit milky residue at bottom. Season with salt and pepper.

Fish Poached in Wine and Mushroom Sauce
1 pounds fish fillets, fresh or frozen (thawed) sole, flounder halibut
1/2 cup minced shallots
1 cup mushrooms sliced
4 tablespoons olive oil
1/2 lemon
Salt and pepper
parsley sprigs
2-3 cup Sauternes
Heat olive oil, add shallots and mushrooms. Saute until very lightly browned on each side. Lightly salt and pepper fillets. Add to frying pan and saute until lightly browned, (1 to 2 minutes on each side). Place fish in buttered baking dish. Pour in 2-thirds cup Sauternes. Add mushroom and shallot sauce on top of fillets. Place in oven pre-heated to 350 degree and cook until fish simmers. Lower heat to 325 degrees and bake for about 40 minutes more. Place fish on platter and pour wine and mushroom sauce on top. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and this slices of lemon. Serves four.

Quick Sole Jolville
1 1/2 cups water
1 bottle Sauternes
1/2 cup butter
Shrimp butter
4 1/2 cups mussels
30 cleaned cooked Shrimps
2 1 pound soles
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons of cream
1 whiting and 1 gurnet etc. for the fish fumet
1/2 pound mushrooms
Vegetables from the Pot-au-feu bouquet garni
flour
lemon juice
nutmeg
Salt and peppercorns
Prepare a stock with the water, wine, vegetables, bouquet garni, flour, lemon juice, nutmeg, pepper and salt. Simmer for 20 minutes, strain. Peel mushrooms. Cook in 1 1/2 table-spoons of butter for 15 minutes with a little lemon juice. Meanwhile heat the shrimps in the stock. Put the mussels in a casserole and cook over a high flame until they open. Place shrimps, mushrooms and shelled mussels on prepared fillets with 2 tablespoons of butter. Cover, cook in the oven at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

Jolville Sauce
Prepare a Beurre manie by mixing 1 tablespoon of butter with a little flour. Moisten the jolville from the soles, bind with the egg yolks. Add 3 more table-spoons of butter, the shrimp butter and add cream. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cover the soles with the sauce and decorate with the shrimps, mussels and mushrooms.

Varieties of Pot Roasts
Like it zippy? Add some prepared horseradish with the braising liquid to the meat as it cooks, covered.
Like it with relish? Brown and season the meat, pouring off drippings, then top with a relish made of chopped onion, sweet pickle relish.
Like it with fruit? Add dried, mixed fruits to pot roast after browning. Use water as the braising liquid, cover tightly and cook slowly until tender. Fruits will become plump as they cook with the roast.

Chamber Salutes Contractor

William C. Harr, president of Harvis Construction, Inc., has been named "Industry's Man of the Year" by the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

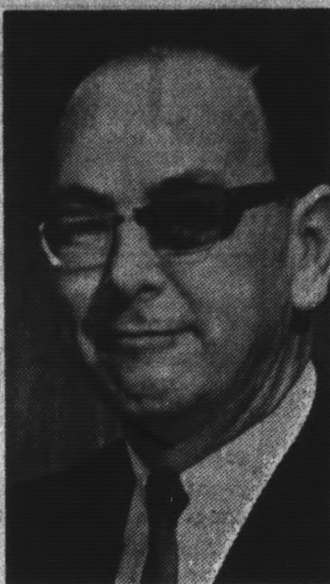

Harr, a veteran general contractor who founded his South San Francisco firm in 1956, received the honor for civic leadership and contribution to community growth.

He is co-chairman of the Miss South San Francisco Pageant, sponsor of the city's Pony League baseball team, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, member of the Police Athletic League, past-chairman of the San Mateo County Youth Conservation Program, past-director of the Boy's Club of South San Francisco and past president of the Lion's Club.

The award was announced by Chamber Past President William A. Borba Sr. at the organization's annual installation banquet.

Harvis Construction is active throughout California and Hawaii in designing and constructing public buildings, commercial developments and other major projects.

Harr recently was elected vice-chairman of the Building Industries Conference Board. He attended the University of San Francisco and served during World War II in the U.S. Army Air Force before entering the construction field.

Blame Smoker For Fire At S.S.F. Home

A fire that South San Francisco authorities think was caused by a careless smoker damaged the front room and furnishings of the Joe Russo home Saturday night.

A fire department officer said the fire in the Russo residence at 364 Heather Way was observed by a neighbor who heard a window break and smelled smoke shortly after 11 p.m.

Firemen said the front room was fully engulfed when they arrived and they could see flames as they approached the home.

The blaze was mostly confined to the living room, in which all furniture and rugs were damaged, firemen said.

Ryan Talks On Merits Of Unification

Assemblyman Leo Ryan will speak to Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association members on the "pros and cons of unification" Thursday afternoon at Colma Intermediate School.

According to JCTA President Jan Beekman, some state legislators are "still looking toward the possibility of state mandated unification of school districts as a feasible solution to the problems of low-wealth districts such as ours."

Ryan is also expected to discuss several bills pending in the legislature which relate directly to the problems of education, specifically Assembly Bill 409 and Senate Bill 156, two measures proposed to provide emergency financial relief for the poorer districts.

Parents of all students in the Jefferson Elementary School District have been invited to attend the Thursday meeting, which will begin at 4 p.m.

"We are also urging teachers and parents of the Jefferson Union High School District and neighboring elementary districts to attend," Mrs. Beekman said.

ROBERT M. EVENDEN

Evenden To Atkinson Jobs Post

Guy F. Atkinson Company, South San Francisco based international construction firm has named a 20-year veteran executive, Robert M. Evenden, to head its Equal Employment Opportunity Administration.

After seven years with the Oregon State Industrial Accident Commission, Evenden, longtime GFACO personnel administration manager, joined the company to pioneer its construction safety program, now recognized as one of the most comprehensive in the industry.

In 1962 Evenden was assigned to the Atkinson-sponsored $50 million Mangla Dam Project in West Pakistan where he spent a year and a half as training director responsible for setting up facilities to teach over 10,000 Pakistani workmen to use modern construction equipment. Evenden lives in Burlingame.

Woman Hit By Auto At San Bruno

A 76-year-old San Bruno woman was injured Sunday when a car struck her as she walked across El Camino Real, near West Angus Avenue.

The victim was Ann M. Buzzell, of 757 Acacia Avenue, according to San Bruno police. The driver of the car was a Millbrae woman, Eva Dory Gomez, 35, of 373 Richmond Avenue.

Authorities said the 4:33 p.m. accident occurred as the Gomez vehicle proceeded north, in the center lane, of El Camino Real. The pedestrian, who was taken to Peninsula Hospital with a 1½-inch cut on the forehead, a fractured upper left leg and a fractured right index finger, multiple bruises and abrasions, was hit as she walked east across the roadway.

The driver of the car told authorities she was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting the woman.

Armed Men Rob Motel

Four youths armed with sawed-off shotguns held up the Mission Bell Motel at 6843 Mission Street in Daly City Sunday morning and fled with some $800 in cash.

Police said the holdup men, all in their early twenties and wearing what was described as "Afri-can-style" haircuts, walked into the motel shortly before 3:30 a.m. and ordered the night manager to hand over the day's receipts.

Suspects Fire On Police

Two car theft suspects escaped in the darkness after firing on a score of Daly City and San Francisco police closing in on them near John McClaren Park early Friday.

Police said the suspects had been the object of a high speed "hot car" chase through Daly City streets after they were spotted by officer Bob Dean running a stop sign on Mission Street about 3:42 a.m.

Dean pursued the auto and called on other units in both cities for aid. The chase came to an abrupt end on Prague Street in San Francisco, near the park.

Both suspects jumped from their car and fled into the park. Dean said the car, registered to a Los Angeles man, rolled backward on the steep hill and crashed into the police car, causing minor damage.

Units from both cities joined in an hour-long search of the park using police dogs. As a unit of San Francisco police proceeded into the park a shot was fired at the approaching officers by one of the suspects.

A department spokesman said "it sounded like a shotgun blast." No one was hit and the search continued. Police were today checking out the car's registered owner. They said the car had not been reported stolen.

Awards for FBLA Club Are Given in South S.F.

The El Camino High School FBLA Club of South San Francisco will have five students entered in the California State FBLA Convention contest competition to be held in Sacramento on April 25, 26 and 27. Students competing will be those who won in the district competition at their convention on February 15, at McClymonds High School in Oakland. Those students who win honors at the State Convention will then go on to compete at the national convention in Dallas, Tex.

At the district convention, first place in bookkeeping was won by Nancy Saenz and third place by Paulette Bitting. Robin Fross took first place in the spelling contest, while Karen McAdam won third in vocabulary. Judy Walters placed fifth in the shorthand competition, and Diane Melendez placed first in the essay contest. Katie Arnold won fifth in the parliamentary procedure contest and will enter the state competition as a member of the Bay Section parliamentary procedure team.

Last year El Camino won the state award for the largest chapter membership. The club has grown steadily in size over the past few years. Membership is open to business and college prep students who are enrolled in a business course and students who are interested in furthering their vocational development and interests. Many activities through the school year keep the club members busy. At El Camino, FBLAers assist teachers every evening after school by checking papers, filing, and performing other clerical duties. Many members also volunteer their timetask work in the offices of El Camino, and others work in the offices of a junior high school several days each week.
